Philadelphia, Nov. 11.—Pennsylvania to-day defeated Harvard in one of the fiercest gridiron contests ever witnessed on Franklin field. The final score was twelve to six.

A peculiar coincidence was that Lamson, the player over whom there has been so much contention, should have scored both touchdowns for Pennsylvania.
That there was ill feeling between the players of the two eleven was made apparent early in the game when Parker, the Crimson center, was disqualified for slugging, and again in the second half when Shible was sent out for the same offense.

ROBBERS STILL AT WORK HERE

Yates Bar and Grocery Visited and Money and Whiskey Secured.
Robbers continue their work in the city. The last place visited was Yates bar room and grocery in the western section of the city. The robbery occurred about 1 or 2 o'clock Saturday morning, and so far the officers have no clue to the parties who are doing the work.

The men endeavored to work a game on the police in order to draw them from that section of the city, but this only served to put the officers on the trail. A telephone message was received at the police station telling of a big fight in progress at the union depot and the request was made that officers be sent there at once. When Deputy Marshal Frank received the message he immediately got suspicious, as he had only a few minutes before left the depot, where everything was quiet.

He called up over the phone how ever, and asked regarding the disturbance, and received the reply that with the exception of two saloons everything was closed.
He then ascertained that the phone message came from Yates bar room, and at once suspected that the place was being robbed. He hurried there with several officers, but upon reaching the place found that the burglars had secured the money, about $8 and twelve bottles of whiskey and departed. The door had been opened, evidently from the inside, as the iron bar could not have been raised from the outside.

The deputy marshal telephoned to Sheriff Van Pel and the latter took his blood hounds to the place, but several persons had been walking about the grounds and the dogs failed to follow the trail.

NEWS NOTES OF THE HIGH SCHOOL

What is Transpiring at Pensacola's Leading Public Institution.

Though school has been in session but a week, we feel that a great deal has been accomplished toward regulating the year's work.

With the return of Miss Thompson, the faculty of the High School was completed.

The senior class, though small is very enthusiastic, and feeling the responsibility of upper classmen, has already resolved to make this year one that will be memorable in the annals of the annals of the High School.

Their efforts are now concentrated on securing grounds suitable for tennis and basket ball, in which endeavor they are ably seconded by Mr. Lockey.

A movement is under way also for beautifying and otherwise improving our library. The school board has authorized the purchase of some new sectional book cases to house the valuable merchants gift library, which was awarded to us last summer, and for which we wish to cordially thank the donors and our friends who so kindly voted for us. Some lovely pictures have already been added to this room.

With our excellent corps of instructors and added facilities in the chemical and physical courses, we expect to accomplish a great deal by the end of the year.

The new members on the faculty are Miss Suter, whose specialties are French and history, and Mr. Lockhart, instructor in mathematics and in chemical and physical science. Miss Reese arrived from Montevallo in time for the opening day, and is giving us fresh inspiration in our English work.

The members of the class of '06 are Lillie Williams, Amy Briggs, Flossie Boyer and Cecile Clabbs.

There are but two more pupils expected in this class. Herbert Caro and Louis Hannan Caro will come in from their home at Myrtle Grove as soon as quarantine is raised. Hannah has arrived from Nashville, and will probably matriculate tomorrow. A great deal of credit is due this young classmate we think, for the persistence with which he has mastered the difficult work of the junior class during the summer, first under the able tutelage of Dr. Whaley, and later in Nashville, where he was coached in Latin by Miss Thompson. With his splendid record in the past, we are assured that he will accomplish great things during the coming year.

In spite of the loss of Hunt Barrow and other enthusiasts, the track team expects to retain the cup which they won last spring. The basket ball teams will be in training early in December. The basket ball season will be followed by track athletics and base ball in the late spring.

The members of the High School are also contemplating an interesting series of lectures to be given chiefly by local talent.

Praise for Physicians.

Owing to the fact that the fever no longer exists in Pensacola, the services of Drs. Hargis, Kennedy and D'Alemberte, who have served as assistants to the state health officer, are no longer needed, and these physicians yesterday resumed their practices, which they gave up to assist the health authorities in stamping out the fever. State Health Officer Porter last night highly commended the services of these physicians, saying that it was efficient in every respect.

The Harbor Patrol.

The harbor patrol, which has been maintained under Lieutenant Alexander, will more than probably be raised in two or three days, and vessels will be allowed to arrive and depart as formerly.
